About the Line

My home sits on a hillside giving me a view of the valley below with mountains all around, and a big beautiful open sky above. On sunny days the gorgeous blue hues dominate my view. Shades of blue are the perfect companion to the sunny yellows and gold of the sunflowers in the fields below. Every day, as the sun moves across the sky from dawn to dusk, the sunflowers turn their heads to follow the light. It's a good reminder for us to follow the light each day—find something that gives you joy, speaks to your soul, and teaches you something new. In this collection, I hope you can find sunny skies with all these beautiful blues and yellows!
