Synonymous with the city its shop stands in, Liberty is a brand driven by discovery. Born in 1875 from the adventurous and disruptive spirit of Arthur Lasenby Liberty, the brand has remained true to its heritage and is famed for its print, fabrics, and design. Liberty continues to be associated with the world of arts and culture, building on its founder's legacy to seek out the new and the beautiful.

Today, Liberty is recognised for its cultural collaborations, inspiring curation, and directional design. The iconic Regent Street shop encompasses six floors of fashion, beauty, childrenswear, accessories, homewares, and crafting - bringing together the world's leading premium and luxury brands and housing them alongside its own Liberty range.

LASENBY COTTON

LIBERTY.

Named after Arthur Lasenby Liberty, the founder of Liberty, Lasenby cotton is an easy-use, unique base for crafting. With its own team of expert designers who design specifically for 'Crafting', Lasenby is the ideal choice for those who enjoy fussy cutting or English paper piecing. Made from 100% cotton, the base features smaller and more conversational designs suitable for a range of creative home projects.

Slightly heavier than its cotton companion Tana Lawn™, Lasenby weighs 146 grams per square meter making it very stable and perfect for quilting. The Lasenby range is printed using traditional screen printing that infuses rich colour tones into the fabric that brings our studio designers' painterly creations to life in the most vivid way possible.

The Liberty print archive holds a home for almost every trend, motif, and print style ever created for the brand - a fascinating and truly unique visual record of art and design history, tracing an unbroken line from the 19th century to the present day. In its physical form, the archive encompasses precious original materials such as antique woodblocks, swatch books, and oil paintings with over 60,000 designs.

The Liberty archive is a many-sided resource, split across physical space but accessible all in one place through the fully searchable digital database. As well as the pieces in the hanger storage, there is also a physical Liberty collection at Westminster City Archives that houses the main paper and media archive for the business; the archive of the Liberty Printing Mill in Italy, which has a technical focus on colour and design clarity; and the archive of the Liberty Japan offices in Tokyo, which holds a specialised rotating collection of fabric hangers. The Liberty design studio, which sits almost atop the flagship London store, also retains some physical materials - to ensure that the designers and visiting wholesale customers have something tangible for inspiration.

Our iconic floral and paisleys, geometrics and colourful conversationals are translated onto the finest textiles and innovative cloths in our Italian Textile Mill. Located between the boulevards of Milan and the banks of Lake Como, our printing mill uses traditional screen printing and pioneering digital technology to illustrate our designs down to every intricate detail.

Our specialists print millions of metres of fabric every year, using both rotary screen and digital printing technologies. Swathes of fabric moves through printing, steaming, washing and softening processes. They are later quality checked by eagle-eyed technologists, before the fabric is cut, rolled and shipped around the globe. The Factory is committed to sustainability – certified with the highest OKEO-TEX level of 'Standard 100' as well as by the BCI (Better Cotton Initiative).
