Jill says, "In the past, a "Bee" was a group effort—community coming together to help each other get a big project done. Women often gathered to work on their sewing and share their lives in a positive way. I love this idea. While we may gather in different ways now, we can still come together to encourage, motivate, and support one another in a project.

This is why I have named this quilt, "Sewing Bee." I look forward to the community we can build while creating a beautiful quilt."

Sew Along: Every week for 12 weeks, Jill will teach a new block style. The sew along will kick off on January 6, 2025. Videos will be shared on the Jillily Studio website (jillilystudio.com) and on YouTube (youtube.com/@jillilystudio).

About the Line

Jill Finley
@jillilystudio

I am delighted to bring you my Perennial fabric collection. We recently built a new home, and for several seasons now, we have been working on the landscaping. Every Spring, I plant an assortment of new perennials. In a few years I will have blooms from thaw to frost. I just love perennials, don't you? They are so tenacious—year after year they come back to life after sleeping in freezing temperatures under a blanket of snow. It's amazing to watch the magic of nature recoloring the landscape with the greenery and blossoms of perennial plants.

It's something you can count on.
Something that lasts.
Something beautiful.

I can't wait to see the beautiful, lasting projects you make with this fabric collection.
