Roar Backpack and Pillows Panel

DRAWSTRING BACKPACK

Supplies provided: 2 panel pieces, 2 tab pieces, handle piece, 2 casing pieces
Extra supplies needed: 4 yds cording, (2) 12.5"x14.5" lining pieces

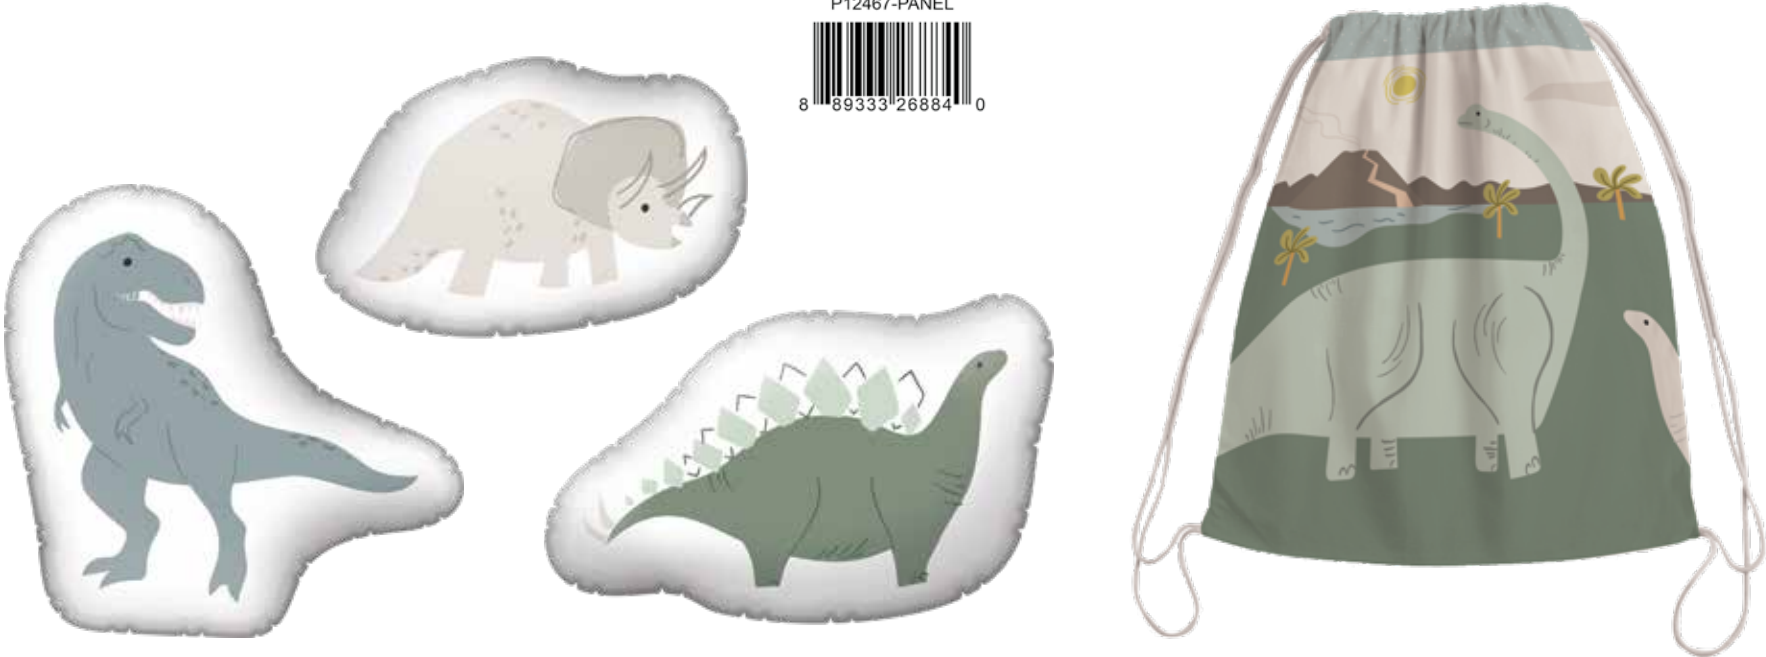

1) Cut out panel pieces.
2) Fold tab piece in half and press. Open up and press raw edges towards the center fold. Topstitch on top and bottom. Cut into 6", 3", and 5" pieces.
3) Fold channel pieces in half and press.
4) Pin both raw ends of the 6" tab piece to the top of the bag back to make a loop. Pin the raw edges of one channel piece to the bag front and the other to the bag back (on top of the tab loop). Sew 1/4" across the tops to hold in place.
5) Fold two 3" tab pieces in half. Pin the raw edges of the loops 2" inches from the bottom of the bag front with the folds facing in. Sew 1/4" to hold in place.
6) Pin the bag front and the bag back with right sides together. Sew 1/2" along the two sides and the bottom (don't sew the top). Turn right side out.
7) Pin both lining pieces with right sides together and sew 1/2" around the sides and the bottom. Leave a 3 inch gap open on the bottom. Leave the top open.
8) Put the bag outside (from step 6) inside the lining from step 7. Pin the top.
9) Sew 1/2" around the top.
10) Turn inside out through the gap at the bottom of the lining. Stitch the gap closed.
11) Cut cording in half. Pull cording through front channel starting at the left. Then pull it through the back channel starting at the right. Pull on end through the tab at the side and tie in a knot.
12) Repeat with the other cording piece going the opposite direction and tie a knot.

DINO PILLOWS

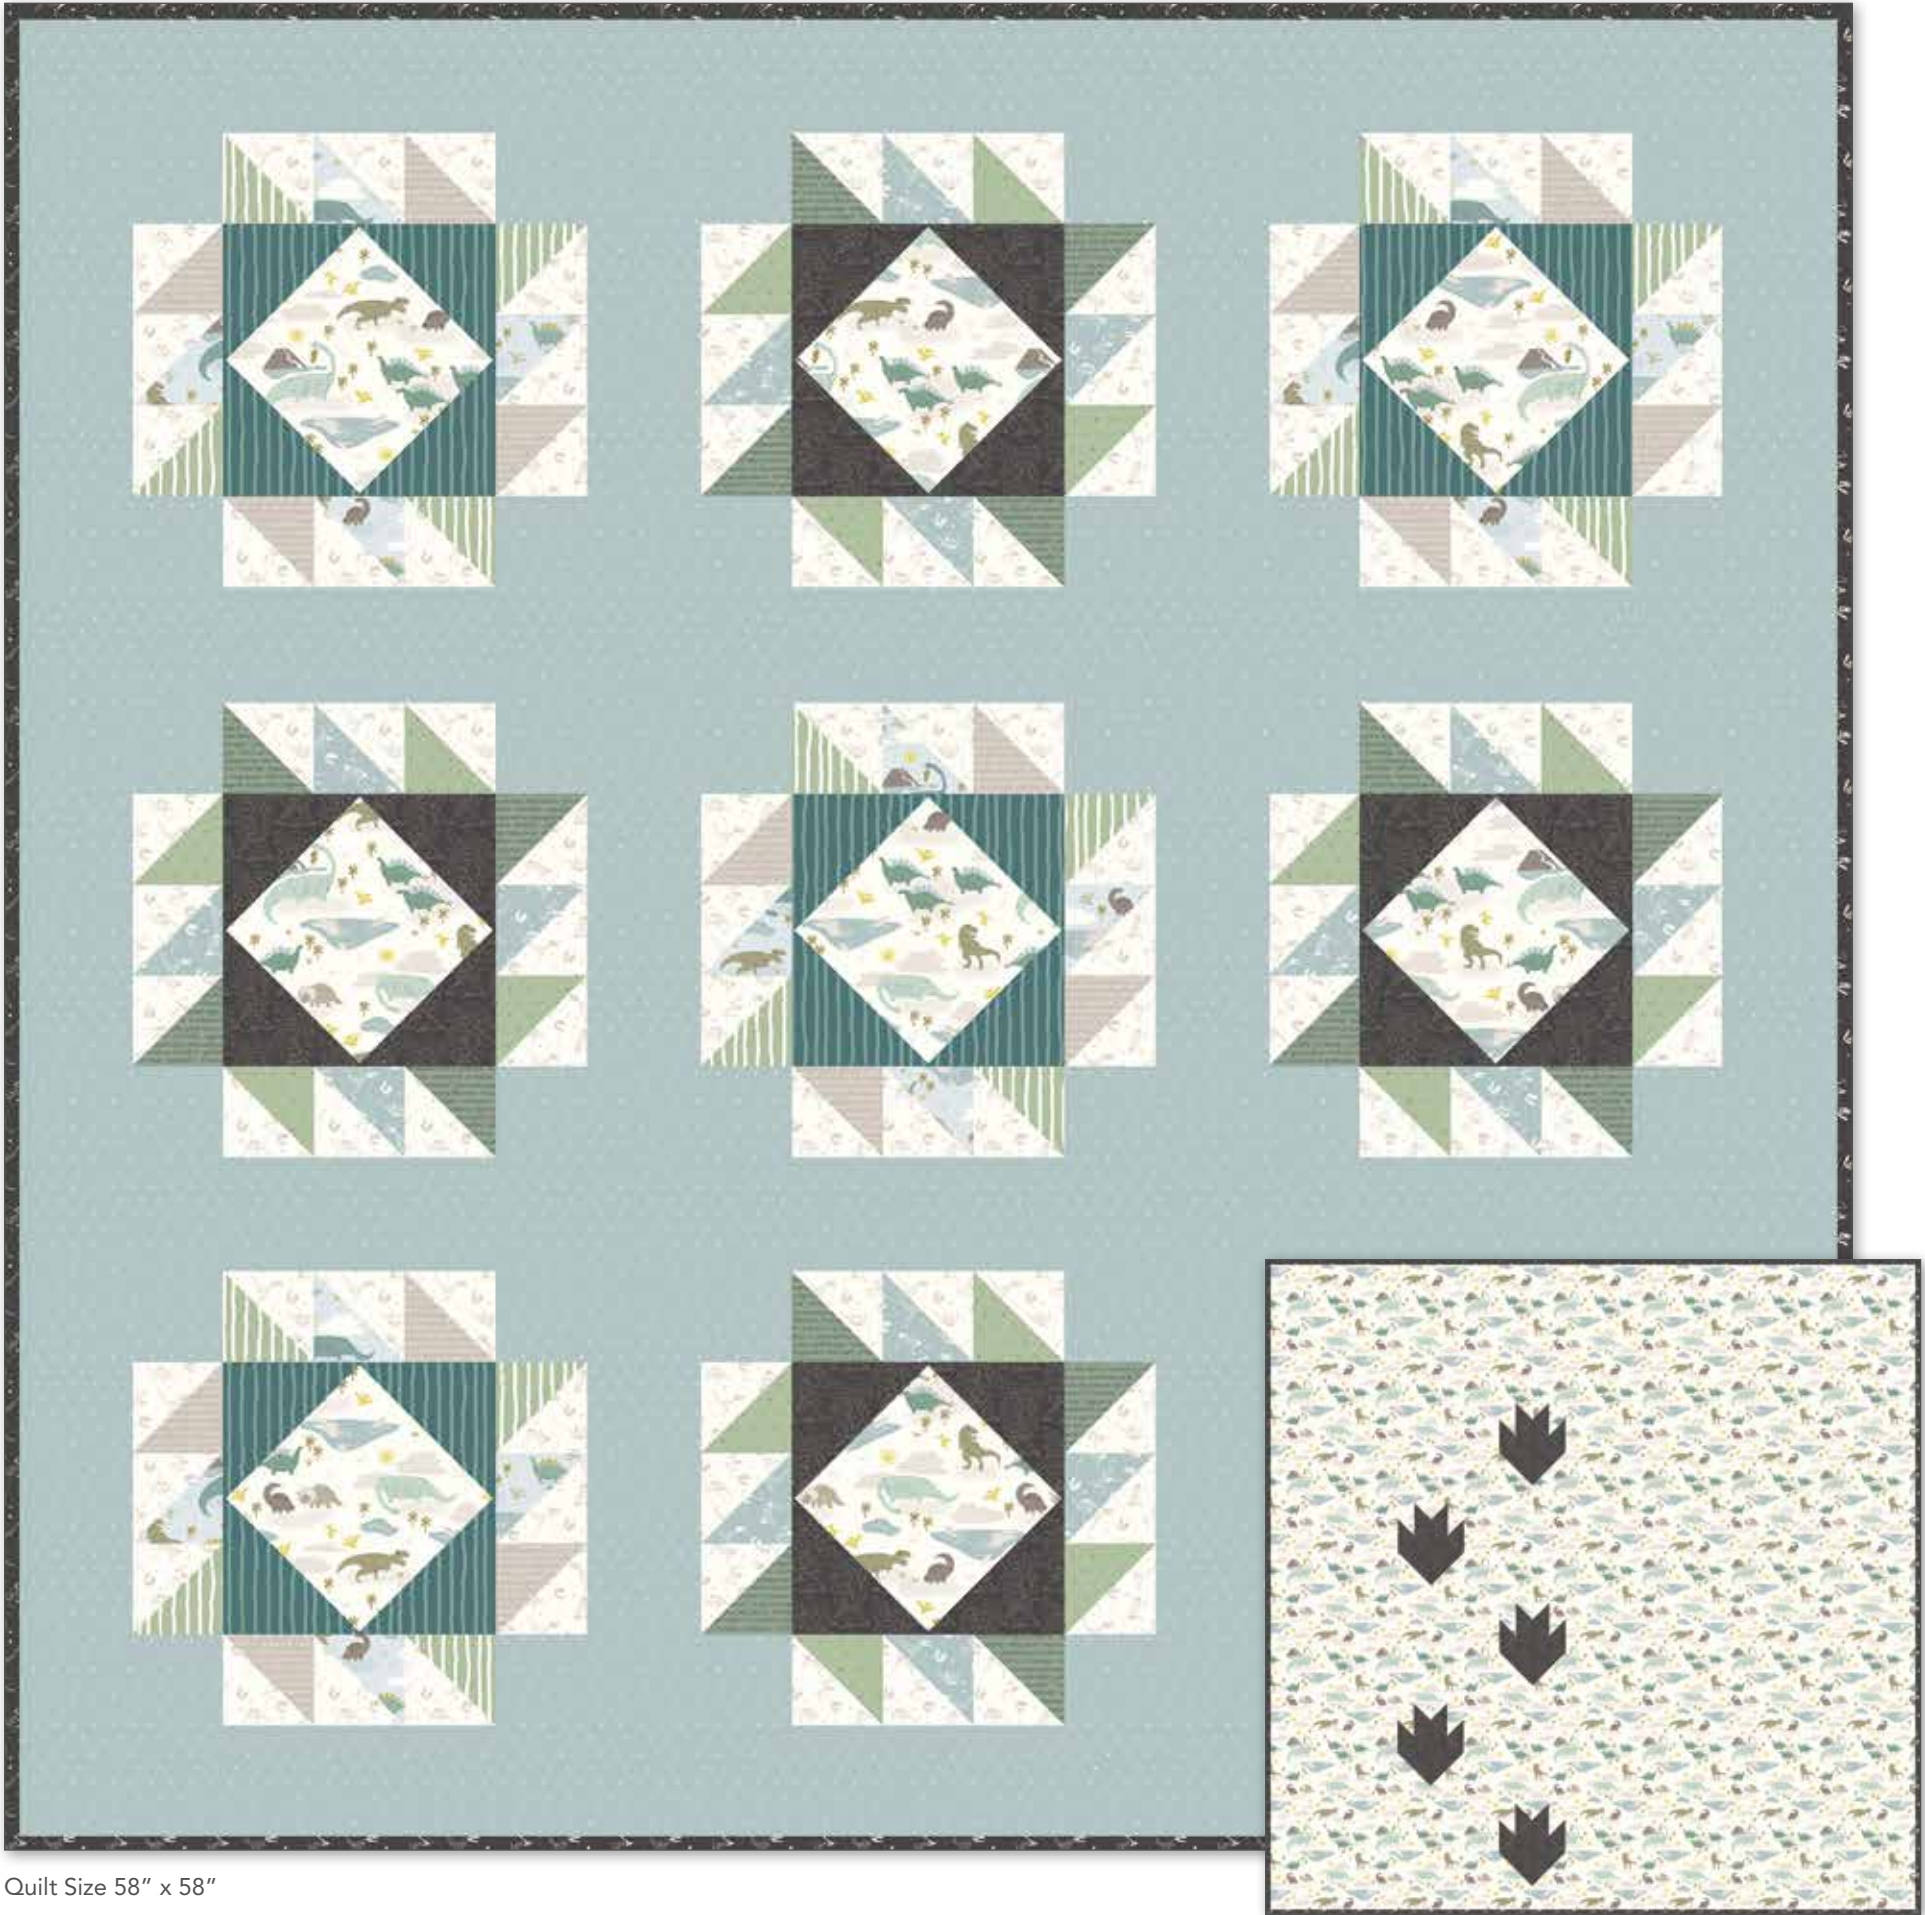

1) Cut out the front and back pillow pieces 1/4 inch from the dotted line. (The dotted line is the sewing line, not the cutting line).
2) Using a 1/4 inch seam allowance, sew the front and back pieces with right sides together. Be sure to leave an opening where there is a break on the pattern.
3) Stuff the pillow.
4) Sew the opening closed by machine or hand.

About the Line

Rachel Erickson
@citrusandmintdesigns

This year my son came home from school with hundreds of mosasaurus pictures drawn on the back of his worksheets – a dinosaur I had no idea existed until a few months ago. If you are a parent of a little kid, then you probably know more dinosaur names than you ever cared to learn. Dinosaur obsession is such a classic little kid stage that I think it should be one of Piaget’s developmental stages of childhood. What’s not to love? Danger, teeth, huge bones, a mysterious extinction...and of course the loud ROAR! Celebrate your dinosaur fan with this new fabric collection by Citrus and Mint Designs, but don’t blame me if it forces you to learn more obscure dinosaur facts!
