About the Line

After opening the package containing my very first fabric collection and anxious to make something with it, I asked my daughter which fabric she would like me to use to make her a dress. "Turquoise animal fabric" she replied. The collection in the box was Guinevere and had no turquoise or animals besides a unicorn. My next collection, Wild Bouquet, presented the same problem--no turquoise, no animals. My daughter was not a fan. Therefore my new collection, Under the Canopy, was created for girls (and boys) like her. Kids who love animals, science, and exploring. Kids who spout off obscure animal facts and binge watch Planet Earth. Kids who care about the Earth and will work to protect it. Under the Canopy is filled with enough animals to please the greatest animal lover and comes in bright colors to hide all of those pesky exploration stains.
